

What should be displayed in a Museum of Mythological Water Beasts?

Ormston House is seeking submissions through the new Membership Scheme. We are inviting artists to propose their work for the expanding exhibition at our Patrick Street venue. We are open to and welcome new ideas and approaches to this multi-year project inspired by the River Shannon.

Please send us:

- An artist's biography (250 words or less)
- A work statement (500 words or less)
- Three examples of work
- Any special instructions or technical requirements
- Works should be available for exhibition in August and September

Submissions to info@ormstonhouse.com should not exceed 10MB.

Please use the subject line: "Membership 2018"

Deadline: Wednesday 15 August, 6pm

Notes:

- There is no submission fee.
- You must be an Ormston House member to submit.
- Selected members will be paid an exhibition fee of €150 (minimum).
- Selected members will be offered travel and accommodation expenses up to €200 (where required).

More about the Museum of Mythological Water Beasts:

The Museum of Mythological Water Beasts is a multi-year project inspired by the River Shannon and the people of Limerick. We began with an open research process, working with local catchment custodians – including artists, boat-builders, historians, and scientists – through a series of events, workshops and field trips about, along and on the river. In 2018, we have returned indoors to develop a series of artistic commissions and exhibition-environments at Ormston House.
